Allies Land Fresh Paratroops In Holland

Bitter Fighting At Veghel And In Vicinity Of Arnhem

LONDON, Sept. 24.

The German News Agency says the Allies have landed fresh paratroops west of Oedenrode and fields south-west of Veghel (in N. Brabant, Holland).

Reuter adds that Oedenrode is a road junction about six miles south-west of Veghel on the main road from Eindhoven to Nijmegen. The German News Agency says that the airborne troops were exposed to very heavy fire while landing, and were attacked by operational reserves. The German News Agency also reported that "bitter fighting at Veghel, where the corridor was cut through, went on the whole day and into the night without a break". The British are trying desperately to restore the connection.

"GANDHIJI IS BEING MISQUOTED"

"Open Rebellion" Wrongly Put In His Mouth", Says Mr. Zakaria

MANCHESTER, Sept. 23.

Writing in to-day's "Manchester Guardian" Mr. R. A. Zakaria says that Mr. Horace Alexander has rendered a service by showing how Gandhiji is being misquoted. For instance, he says, in the pamphlet "Congress Responsibility for Disturbances in 1942-43", the following "famous words" are put into Gandhiji's mouth: "There is no room left in the proposal for withdrawal or negotiation. There is no question of one more chance. After all it is an open rebellion."

Mr. Zakaria adds: If one refers to the "Harijan" of July 19, 1942, where the authentic account of that interview is given nowhere in the whole report does one come across the much publicised words "open rebellion".—Reuter.

SWEDISH TERRITORIAL WATERS BANNED AGAINST GERMANY

From Reuter's Special correspondent.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 23.

A new momentous decision reducing Swedish-German trade relations almost to zero has been taken by the Swedish Government and this afternoon (Saturday) the Foreign Minister, M. Guenther, informed the German Minister Thomsen, that with effect from the night of September 26-27th, German ships are forbidden to use Swedish territorial waters or ports. As the territorial waters of the west coast are mined and thus unusable, the only facility remaining to German ships is the right of call at a few west coast ports such as Goeteborg and Malmoe.—Reuter.

NEW PHASE OF OUR STRUGGLE FOR FREEDOM

Gadgil On Congress-League Reaction To Govt.'s Attitude

KOLHAPUR, Sept. 24.

"The Congress never accepted the two-nation theory, but Mr. Savarkar floated it in 1937. However the Congress is willing to concede self-determination if desired by Muslims. That independence cannot be achieved without Muslim co-operation is the last two years' experience."

Thus observed Mr. N. V. Gadgil, President of the Maharashtra Provincial Congress Committee, addressing a huge gatthering here, last evening.

In apprehension of any trouble at the meeting elaborate police 'bandobust' was made.

Continuing Mr. Gadgil said: "If the British refuse to part with power after Mahatma Gandhi and Mr. Jinnah demand it jointly, we will find a new phase in our struggle for freedom."

He exhorted the people to stand by Gandhiji and the Congress.

Among other institutions Mr. Gadgil was garlanded on behalf of the State Muslim League and the Muslim Students' Union.—United Press.

SEVAGRAM ASHRAM CLOSURE DENIED

Mahatma Nails Lie To Counter

BOMBAY, Sunday.

Mahatma Gandhi has issued the following statement in connection with the report published today in a section of the Press about the closing down of the Sevagram Ashram:—

"Whoever has given currency to the news about the Sevagram Ashram has not served the cause of truth. The only truth about the news is that the disbandment and transformation of the Sevagram Ashram is under contemplation. No decision has yet been taken. But the suggestion that it has anything to do with my supposed dissatisfaction with the conduct of the Ashram during my incarceration is altogether untrue. On the contrary I have expressed my unstinted admiration for the single minded devotion with which they carried on the Ashram under those difficult and anxious 21 months. If it is ultimately decided to disband the Ashram it would be for the purpose of raising the activities of the members to a higher level than heretofore."—United Press.

ALLIES 15 MILES FROM BRENNER PASS

5th Army Exploiting Breakthrough Of Gothic Line

Allied Headquarters in the Mediterranean: Fifth Army are now only 15 miles from Brenner Pass, according to the Allied Mediterranean communique today. Germans, it also reveals, have been forced to abandon the whole of the prepared positions of the Gothic Line except in one sector.

The communique adds: "NAVY: U.S.A. Ludlow again bombarded enemy supply dumps in Ventimiglia area on September 24. The area was well covered. Mine clearance on the south coast of Franee continues satisfactorily. Shortly before daylight on September 23, British destroyers operating near Corfu met and engaged three fast hostile vessels. In an inconclusive action one of the enemy ships was hit and set on fire, before they retired at high speed with smokescreen to the cover of their coastal batteries. LAND. American troops of the Fifth Army are exploiting their break-through of Gothic Line north of Firenzuola. They have seized important mountain features north of Firenzuola, and are now only 15 miles from Bologna. On their right British and Indian troops of the Fifth Army have captured several dominating heights, and are approaching the town of Palazzoulo.

In the Adriatic sector troops of the Eighth Army have crossed river Narecchia on a wide front.

North of Rinini British and Dominion troops of the Eighth Army are meeting strong resistance south of the town of Ballarin, while in the difficult country north of the city of San Marino, which is now entirely in our hands, several enemy counter-attacks have been repulsed. These two attacks by Allied armies in Italy have forced enemy to abandon whole of prepared positions of his Gothic Line except in the sector west of Futa pass. British troops of the Eighth Army have made large advances in difficult mountain country north of the upper Tiber and Arno valleys, and have occupied a large number of towns and villages in this area.

GURKHAS CAPTURE 'DEAD WOMAN'

GOTHIC LINE, Sept. 23: "Femina Morta" (the dead woman), a 3,400-foot feature on the Gothic Line has been captured by men of the Gurkha Rifles in a daylight attack. The assault went in three stages, and it was so perfect that the time schedule was kept almost to the minute.

Preliminary work for the attack on "Femina Morta" was done by men of the Twelfth Frontier Force Regiment which secured the heights on the way to that ridge.

"Femina Morta" and "Le Scajette" captured earlier by Mahrattas, were the immediate objectives of the Indian Division. Both are now secure.

A large section of the Gothic Line defences are in our hands.

Gurkha Rifles Repel German Counter-attacks

SAN MARINO Sept. 22.—With all their ammunition gone, and without artillery or tank support, a battalion of the Ninth Gurkha Rifles serving with a veteran Indian division, held their ground after forming a bridgehead over the Marino river in face of heavy enemy counter-attacks. With bayonet and kukri alone, they held off the attacking Germans.

By their courage Sikh and, later, Highland battalions were able to pass through to enable the Highlanders to capture the outskirts of the citadel town of San Marino, says an Indian army observer.—Reuter.

a slave can stand along with his master before God."

Continuing Mr. Jinnah observed that at Lahore he had asked the Muslims to pray for the success of the talks and to observe truce, and say not a word either against the Hindus or the Congress. He was glad that the Muslims had followed his instructions fully, and he felt proud that discipline had come to stay amongst them.

Mr. Jinnah further asked the audience to arrange social functions at the time of Id because it gave them opportunity to come together and discuss matters. Great things had come out of social functions.

The dinner was attended by the Consul of Turkey, Sir Tariq Amirali, Mr. Habib Rahimtullah and others.

JINNAH SILENCES JOURNALISTS!

Unfair To Persist In Queries About 'Breakdown In Talks'

"You Must Keep To Understanding—I'm Tell You What I Can Tell You", Says Quaid-e-Azam

BOMBAY, Sunday.

Newspapermen made an attempt to draw out Mahatma Gandhi and Mr. Jinnah; at the end of their to-day's talks on the basis of a report appearing in Gujerati daily that the talks had broken down.

Smiling broadly at the pressmen, Gandhiji replied: "Don't ask me. Ask the Quaid-e-Azam".

Mr. Jinnah took up the question promptly and replied: "I have told you so many times that I cannot say anything more than what I have said. You must not go asking me questions. You must keep to the understanding that I am telling you what I can tell you."

Pressmen however were undeterred. To a furtner query whether the report of the breakdown of the talks should be taken seriously, Mr. Jinnah raised a counter-query whether he was responsible for the report. He added that it was unfair to persist in such queries.

To-day's talks lasted for an hour and a half. The next meeting of the leaders is fixed for 5-30 p.m. on Tuesday. The respite to-morrow is due to Gandhiji's weekly silence.

Just before Gandhiji left for Mr. Jinnah's residence to-day, the Hon. Emily Kinnaird, whom Gandhiji calls his "mother", told him that she had come to bless his efforts.

SCENES AT PRAYER MEETING

Gandhiji left for the prayer-grounds at 7-25 p.m. accompanied by his 38-year old "mother". Who clung on to him affectionately. At the gate of the Birla House the volunteers gave them a salute. As Emily Kinnaird cast a glance at the two rows of volunteers, Gandhiji remarked: "These are my guardian angels."

At the prayer time, Emily Kinnaird was seated on a chair near Gandhiji's dais reading the Bible. She kept time with palms as "Ram Nam" was being sung.

Prayer over, Gandhiji made a brief speech to the 15,000 crowd. He said that he found a number of people attending the prayer every evening. But some of them seemed to be under the impression that their humble contribution of a pice each for the "Harijan Fund" did not matter much. Gandhiji wished to tell them that however small their contribution might be, it was welcome. There might be people who were in a position to contribute a crore of rupees each. But he valued no less the contribution of a pice each from a crore of people. That did not mean he was going to let go rich people. He would collar them too!

TESTING DENTAL SET TODAY

Gandhiji commenced his weekly silence at 6-30 p.m. to-day—half an hour earlier than the last week's schedule. This is because a dentist, who has been getting ready a new set of artificial teeth for Gandhiji will be testing them at 8-30 p.m. to-morrow. Dr. D. V. Pandit, Dental Surgeon of the J.J. group of hospitals will arrive with the new denture at Birla House to-morrow night. He wants Gandhiji to put the set on and speak, so that it can be properly tested.

FILMS SHOWN AT BIRLA HOUSE

Films showing scenes from the Aga Khan Palace, where Gandhiji was in detention, his sojourn at "Gandhi Niram", Juhu, after his release, and the historic Gandhi-Jinnah meeting which is on since September 9, at No. 10 Mount Pleasant Road, were screened at Birla House at about 9 p.m. to-day. Mr. C. Rajagopalachari being one of the audience. The scene at the Aga Khan Palace were shot by Mr. Kanu Gandhi, while the rest were filmed by Mr. D. R. D. Wadia. Gandhiji did not attend the show since he was feeling tired. The highlights of the films were the prayer scenes at Juhu taken in colour by Mr. Wadia. Gandhiji looking into a microscope in his Juhu shack evidently to see a hookworm and touching scene taken by Mr. Kanu Gandhi when a wreath was being placed at the spot in the Aga Khan Palace where Mrs. Kasturba Gandhi and Mr Mahadev Desai were cremated.

"PRAY FOR SUCCESS OF OUR TALKS"

Jinnah's Advice To Muslims

"My advice to you is that you must have patience and just hope and pray for the success of my talks with Gandhiji," said Mr. M. A. Jinnah at an Id dinner given at Anjuman-i-Islam by the Bombay Provincial Muslim League. Mr. Chundrigar welcomed Mr. Jinnah and other guests on Thursday.

Mr. Jinnah continued: "Id is the greatest day for the Muslims. They celebrate it because they come out successfully through the rigours of Ramzan. Islam stands for equality and fraternity of mankind. In Islamic prayer all distinctions of caste and creed are wiped out, and even

S. I. CHRISTIANS AND PAKISTAN

TIRONELVELI, Sept. 24: A resolution wishing success to the Gandhi-Jinnah talks and deciding to send a message to both the leaders was adopted by the seventh South Indian Christian Conference held here under the presidency of Dr. Ready Asirvatham.

The Conference passed a resolution expressing the opinion that from economic, political, and other points of view Pakistan was injurious to the welfare of India today, but a situation had arisen wherein the Muslims were demanding Pakistan and it seemed that it is impossible to achieve freedom for India without granting Pakistan and ensuring Hindu-Muslim unity. If a settlement was reached on the basis of Pakistan the Christian community should not stand against it, but must accept the inevitable and demand constitutional saleguards to ensure free practice and propagation of their religious faith and adequate representation of the community in councils and in services.—United Press.

MADRAS POSER TO JINNAH

MADRAS, Sept. 22. "What attitude should the Muslim League adopt towards the Post-war Reconstruction Committee set up by the Madras Government?" This is the question that is engaging the mind of the Muslim circles in Madras.

It is learnt that the Provincial Muslim League has received a number of requests from the Districts suggesting the reference of the matter to Mr. Jinnan, and asking his opinion whether the Leaguers should co-operate with it or not.—O. P.

AMERICAN AID TO N. BIHAR SUFFERERS

PATNA, Sept. 23: American aid is being extended to the relief of sufferers from the epidemics in north Bihar, and will comprise initially the supply of drugs and commodities only.

Acting officer in charge of the Friends Ambulance Unit, Mr. T. G. Davies and Mr. Eric W. Johnson, delegate of the American Friends Service Committee were in Patna today on their way to north Bihar where they will study the siuation relating to the relief work. They have already left for Muzaffarpur. Before leaving, they had a talk with the ex-Minister Mr. Anugraha Narayan Sinha, Secretary of the North Bihar Co-ordinating Relief Committee about the drug requirements of the North Bihar sufferers.

"We will wander round as much as possible in the interior of the affected areas and will see with our own eyes the situation in order to compare and contrast it with that prevailing in Bengal last year", remarked one of them in an interview.—A. P.

New Appointment At Teheran

NEW DELHI, Sept. 23: The Government of India have decided to appoint an Indian Trade Commissioner for Persia.

India is now one of Persia's largest suppliers, especially of cotton piecegoods; and in order to consolidate and develop India's position in the Persian market it has been decided to create a separate post of Indian Trade Commissioner for Persia.

Major Hassan, an officer of the Indian Army, who is at present employed at the British Embassy in Teheran, has been chosen to fill the post with headquarters at Teheran.

"Country's Fate Depends Upon Its People's Education"

Dewan Of Junagadh Commends Islamic Cultural Heritage To Muslim Youths At Poona Educational Conference

Khan Bahadur Abdul Kadir Muhammad Hussain, Dewan Saheb of Junagadh State, delivering his presidential address at the 19th Session of the Bombay Presidency Muslim Educational Conference at Poona on Sunday morning exhorted young Muslim men and women to be proud of their cultural heritage.

He said: The future of a community depends almost entirely upon the nature and extent of its educational provision. A nation's culture and educational record are its most valuable assets. The Muslim community's educational achievements in the past constitute a proud heritage. Its contribution to science, literature, humanities and culture is substantial. The Muslims held a leading position in the educational world, but as a result of the upheavals in the political and social world, there was unfortunately a set-back, and the Muslims have been left very much in the background.

We all owe a deep debt of gratitude to those early Muslim writers and poets such as Ghalib, Azad, Hali, Akbar and others who did much to break down the old prejudices and to widen the community's outlook on education.

POST-WAR EDUCATIONAL PLAN

Referring to the Post-war educational plan prepared by the Central Advisory Board of Education he said: I have no doubt that this plan is now in the hands of Muslims' educationists all over the country and is being critically and exhaustively examined. To my mind, it is essential that this Conference should have as one of its main functions a detailed and exhaustive survey of this educational plan and in particular the extent to which and the manner in which it is likely to affect the Muslims. Even a cursory glance at the scheme is enough to show that the programme outlined is of a very ambitious nature involving an outlay of over 300 crores of rupees, within a period of about 40 years.

The Scheme contemplates the establishment of a system of universal, compulsory and free education for all boys and girls between certain age groups. An important feature of the plan is the provision of high school education on the condition that entry to high schools should be on a selective basis, and restricted to only such boys as show promise of taking full advantage of the education provided. It is a matter for serious consideration, so far as the Muslims are concerned, as to how this selective process is likely to affect them.

CULTURAL HERITAGE

Referring to the Islamic Culture and the progress made by the Islamic nations, he said: every nation is justly proud of its culture and there is every justification for Muslims to feel proud of their cultural background. What pains me most in my long and varied experience is the absence amongst our young men and women of that appreciation of Islamic culture which is essential if the Muslims are to survive as a community.

Even a cursory glance at the Islamic history of India, Arabia, Persia, Egypt, Spain, Turkey, and other nations cannot fail to give an idea of the cultural progress which the Mussalmans had made. Who can forget Delhi, Agra, Murshidabad, Bijapur, Bagdad, Corodova, Stambul, Cairo, Shiraz and many other cultural centres established by Muslims all over the world. It is most unfortunate that young Muslim men and women seem to have little or no idea of Islamic culture and no large scale attempt seems to have been made to remove the prevailing ignorance.

MAHARASHTRA UNIVERSITY

Referring to the movement for the establishment of a University at Poona he said: "I understand that there is a movement in this Province to establish what is known as Poona University. The University is intended to be of the regional type. I am sure the proposal to establish a Maharashtra University at Poona will be welcomed by all concerned and I am equally certain that the proposed University will serve the interests of all communities, all languages and all cultures alike existing within its jurisdiction.

Concluding his address, the President quoted the following from the Sargent Committee's report:

"Upon the education of the people of this country, the fate of this country depends."

These inspiring words should be remembered and acted upon".

Chhatari Urges Need Of Vocational & Technical Bias

POONA, Sept. 24.

"Morality in a wide sense should be regarded as the highest attainment of an individual or a people; it forms the kernel of teachings of different religions and cultures which find one home in India; it should form the keystone of all education. Briefly, whether you produce a doctor or an engineer a mechanic or an artisan, a teacher or a lawyer, a peasant or a soldier, he must before being anything else, and whether belonging to one nationality or race or other, be first and foremost a gentleman."

Thus observed the Nawab Sahib of Chhatari, President, H.E.H.'s Executive Council, in the course of his inaugural address on the occasion of the 19th session of the Bombay Muslim Educational Conference held at the Heroon Hall this morning.

MASS LITERACY

Referring to mass literacy, he said: "Our backwardness has only more accentuated the picture of the problem created by mass illiteracy and facilities for instruction in the three R's is the craving need. The number of Muslims in the Secondary, and specially in the higher stages falls lower in proportion as each stage progresses, an index to the existence of the desire for education but lack of means to acquire it. What is needed is an extended system of scholarships and in that connection, I would like to emphasise the mistake usually made in expecting all such aid from the Government. While the Government undoubtedly owe duty to the people in general and to minorities in particular, as they must and do require special protection in any country, the main structure must be based on an organised system of self-help.

Emphasising the need for vocational and technical education the Nawab Sahib of Chhatari added: "I recommend that students of the Muslim community should be induced in as large numbers as possible to avail of the facilities that may exist for such technical training or teaching. For the same purpose and with the additional object of serving to defend the country against the present menace on its Eastern Frontiers—a menace which is fortunately fast receding—I would advocate sending boys to all those military institutions which may exist in your province for training technical personnel.

THE LANGUAGE PROBLEM

Referring to the problem of language, the Nawab Sahib said: "Whether you call it Urdu or Hindustani its very origin is based upon the will of the two communities to understand each other and today, despite the communal atmosphere in which opposing parties are prone to characterise it as a language of Muslims alone, it is an All-India language. As far as regional languages are concerned, both socially and economically, any tendency to discard them would only serve to jeopardise the best interests of the community, specially in the rural area.

Concluding he observed "Almost half of our community would remain in ignorance if sufficient attention were not to be devoted also to the problem of women's education. In that sphere too considering economic backwardness of the community I would stress the importance of vocational instruction.

"Despite the strain of war efforts to the prosecution of which we must devote every ounce of our energy and resources, we have been endeavouring in Hyderabad to prevent education from becoming one of the casualties of war and have sustained it's growth and expansion by a steady increase in grants even during the war years." —United Press.

CHAIRMAN'S WELCOME ADDRESS

"We have hitherto looked upon Islam as a bundle of ritual and have come to accept the attitude so much in favour with the West, that religion is a private affair between man and his Creator. This attitude is totally opposed to the very spirit of Islam which is a code, social, moral, economic, political, educational and religious. Thus said Mr. Abdul Kadir Khan, M.L.C., the Chairman of the Bombay Provincial Muslim Educational Conference held at Haroon Hall, Poona, on Sunday morning.

The speaker further dealt with the problems of Muslim secondary education, the establishment of the Maharashtra University and its effect upon Muslim culture and Muslim female education. About the Maharashtra University he said that its establishment would be disastrous to Muslim culture and education.

A message from the Quaid-e-Azam Mahomedali Jinnah says: "I am glad that the Bombay Presidency Muslim Educational Conference is holding its 19th session in Poona on 24th September. The right system of education is the foundation of a nation, and the problem of Muslim education should be the foremost consideration of our leaders and educationists.

I wish your Conference every success and look forward to its adopting a practical and concrete scheme which will give a lead to the Muslims of the Presidency in particular and India in general."

Messages were also received from His Excellency the Governor of Bombay, Sir Firozkhan Noon, Sir Mohmed Zafrullakhan, Sir Jogendra Singh, Dr. Sir Ziauddin Ahmed, Sir Currimbhoy Ibrahim, Sir A. M. K. Dehlavi, His Highness the Nawabsaheb of Janjira and Sir Mohmed Usman.—Orient Press.

Practical Training For Muslim Youths

Mr. M. A. Bari, writes:—Sir Currimbhoy Ebrahim, Bart., the following message to Mr. Ahmed E. H. Jaffer, General Secretary, Bombay Provincial Muslim Educational Conference:—"I wish every success to the forthcoming Bombay Presidency Muslim Educational Conference. I hope the enthusiastic youths who will be amongst you shall achieve everything not merely by words but by deed and adopt practical and concrete scheme, which will lead India to its future success. As I happened to be the bearer of this message, I put a few questions to Sir Currimbhoy to explain to me the meaning of the sentence "Practical and concrete scheme" embodied in the message. He replied as follows:—"Under the present circumstances in his opinion the present method of imparting knowledge was very defective. The crying need of the day is practical training that can help the youths of this country to earn their living in an honourable manner and thus save a lot of money and energy that is wasted in acquiring Degrees. The practical training should include items like Shorthand, Typewriting, accountancy, etc., besides the technical training required to get employment in industrial concerns."

I highly appreciate the suggestions made by Sir Currimbhoy Ebrahim. Some years ago I was personally associated with an institution called Unemployed Muslims Registration Office, Bombay. The training given there included some of the items mentioned above. But it is a matter of great regret that due to the lack of co-operation, the whole thing came to grief. However, taking stock of the present position, I take this opportunity to place before the well known educationists who have gathered here to attend the Conference, my humble suggestions and appeal to them to devise that educational scheme, keeping in mind what I had said.

THE DIGVIJAY TILES & POTTERIES, LTD.

The Digvijay Tiles & Potteries, Ltd. the Prospectus of which has appeared in this Paper on 23rd. September 1944, is the newest and most timely Industry organised in Nawanagar State, under the Patronage of H. H. The Jam Saheb. The State has offered to the Company, under an Agreement, an exclusive monopoly for a period of 20 years, for manufacturing tiles, fire-bricks, potteries, sanitary-ware and Ceramic-ware etc.; and other concessions to use raw materials at favourable rates of Royalty, and facilities for transport, at specially reduced rates.

Messrs. Kamdar & Co. are the Managing Agents, and the Company is backed by a group of well known industrialists and businessmen of Bombay. Investors should well note the fact that the Factory is equipped with machinery and plants needed for the satisfactory production; and that it is the only factory in the whole of Kathiawar, manufacturing roofing and flooring tiles. All these articles will go a great way to meet the present shortage of goods, and the post-war industrial developments and reconstruction of Western India.

The Principal raw materials are available in large quantities in the State; and the factory is connected with Port Bedi, from which shipments are easily made to all important ports of country. In view of immense opportunities and facilities the Company enjoys, it is rightly hoped that the Company will be able to return excellent yield for investment.

It may be added that the Directors and their friends would have taken up the entire share capital, but for the rules and regulations of the Stock Exchange, which insists of fifty per cent of the capital to be allotted to the Public. Hence Public subscription is solicited.

B. B. R. C.'s RUN AWAY VICTORY AGAINST MAHARASHTRA IN FINAL

There was a crowd of 5,000 present at the Cooperage on Sunday evening to see the final match in the Western India Football Championship. The contending parties were the British Base Reinforcement Camp from Deolali and the Maharashtra XI from Poona. The soldiers were too good for the Indian team and won by the big margin of 8 goals to nil.

PULLEN NOTCHES 4 GOALS

Weaker as the Maharashtra team XI they were further handicapped by a smart shower of rain just before the commencement of the game. Their barefooted players could not do anything on the slashy and slippery ground. Instead of persisting in the short passing game, had they resorted to kick and run tactics they might have fared much better.

The Soldiers scored four goals in each half, their centre-forward, Pullen, claiming half of them. The remainder were shared by the other forwards.

THE TEAMS

B.B.R.C.—Gould; Ryegate and O'Boyle; Keep, Leigh and Campbell; Mandero, James, Pullen, Pearson and Malone.

MAHARASHTRA XI.—Arikanathan; Chinnathumbi and Rungdass; Lognathan, Shrayan and Woodumbi; Jagannath, Ramdas, Perumal, Ethraj and Pillay.

Referee: Mr. Reddin.

At the conclusion of the game Lady Kania, wife of the Hon. Justice Sir Harilal J. Kania distributed the trophies and prizes.

HOW GOVT. WANTS TO FIGHT POTATO FAMINE

The Government has decided that from Tuesday September 26, potatoes would be sold by the Government in Bombay City and the Bombay Suburban District under the following arrangements:—

(1) Household consumers may buy potatoes from Government Grain Shops at the rate of not more than 2 lb. per week on the production of the ration card of the head of the family. The supplies being short, it must be made clear that at any Government Grain Shop on any particular day supplies cannot be guaranteed on the production of ration cards of heads of families.

(2) Establishments will receive potatoes from the Delisle Road Government godown on the production of ration permits held by them and in proportion to the number of ration units sanctioned for each one of them. Having regard to the present short supplies, issue of potatoes to establishments would be restricted to 1 lb. per week for every four ration units held by establishments. The programme of issue of potatoes to establishments would be as under:—Tuesday—Esablishments in B and C Wards; Wednesday—Establishments in D Ward; Thursday—Establishments in E Ward; Friday—Establishments in F Ward; Saturday—Establishments in G Ward and from the Bombay Suburban District; and Monday—Establishments in A Ward.

Bread Ration Cards For Manual Labourers

Supplementary ration to manual labourers who are employees of authorised mills, factories and large organisations in Bombay City and the Bombay Suburban District is at present issued by the employers otherwise than on a ration document. Bread tickets for obtaining bread were so far issued against surrender of the wheat quota and only against the cancellation of the appropriate squares on the ration document. As the employees were not obtaining their supplementary ration on a ration document they could not obtain bread tickets against surrender of their wheat quota from the supplementary ration. In order to remove this difficulty the Government of Bombay has suitably amended the Bombay City and the Suburban Rationing Regulations. Any such manual labourer can now obtain bread tickets against his supplementary ration.

FLAG SALUTATION IN CITY WARDS

BOMBAY, Sunday.

The Tricolour was unfurled in the seven wards of the city this morning, in observance of the ceremony which is held on the last Sunday of every month, under the auspices of the District Congress Committees. Citizens joined in mass spinning demonstrations after paying homage to the nation's banner.

Presiding at the flag salutation at Chiknaiwadi under the Girgaum District Congress Committee's auspices, Mr. Nagindas T. Master, Mayor of Bombay said that the Tricolour had been responsible for inspiring the nation to unite and march towards the goal of freedom. It was 14 years ago—in 1930, that the nation's struggle had taken an active form. There were some who were disappointed with the achievements of the nation during these years. But he was not one of them. He firmly believed that India had marched from strength to strength under the lead of the Congress, though the goal was still to be reached. He was hopeful of the future. He appealed to Bombay to pray for the success of Gandhi-Jinnah talks.

Dr. Naravane unfurled the flag at Dadar under the auspices of the "G" Ward Congress Committee. Similar functions were held in the other wards.

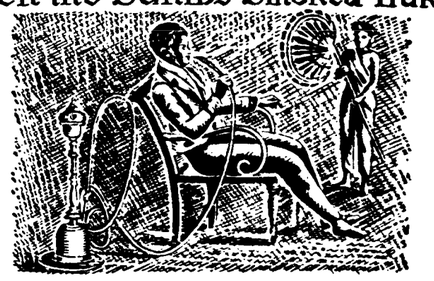
When the Sahibs Smoked Hukka...



IN those closing years of the 18th century, when the trading Sahibs from the West, following the fashion of the 'Grand Moguls' smoked Hukka in the colourful dreams of a rising Empire, Hoyles had their beginning in England. Backed by that time-old heritage and by their own extensive researches Hoyles in India stand high to the field of scientific achievement as manufacturers of Paints.

To-day if you plan a home of your own while enjoying a peaceful Hukka or run a factory or shipping line with brisk puffs of a modern pipe you can not help remember Hoyle's Quality Paints.

A THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

They that can give up essential liberty to obtain a little temporary safety deserve neither liberty nor safety.

—Benjamin Franklin.

The Bombay Chronicle

HARIJANS' PLIGHT

The annual report on the working of the Backward Class Department for the year ending March 1943, published last week, is as usual much belated. A brief report like this could well have been published within six months of the close of the year. Nor is the present report full enough. For instance, it does not mention the number of separate primary schools for the Scheduled Classes though we are told the number "is gradually decreasing though there has been a slight increase in the number of pupils attending such schools". And the explanation given for the decrease is that "no such separate schools are to be maintained except in very special circumstances in accordance with Government's policy (directed towards the removal of untouchability) of having scheduled class pupils sit with the others in schools common to the Scheduled Classes as well as to children of non-Scheduled Classes without any distinction being observed." The policy of getting all Harijan students into common schools is excellent. But it defeats its purpose if it in effect denies Harijan students admission to both special and common schools. The report points out that the number of Harijan pupils attending common schools decreased from 93,662 in 1941-42 to 86,405 in 1942-43, while those attending special schools increased from 9,833 to 10,115. When the number in special schools is increasing, there should be more such schools, unless the students are got to join common schools. But while the number in the latter schools is itself decreasing, probably due to social difficulties, it is a disservice to Harijans to reduce the number of schools specially meant for them.

The decrease in the number of Harijan students in common schools is most disappointing. It is explained in the report as being due "partly to political disturbances and partly to unfavourable economic conditions." It is curious these difficulties did not prevent an increase in the number of Harijan pupils in special schools in spite of the gradual decrease in the number of such schools. We fear other causes have also contributed to the decrease in common schools, such as the hostility of non-Harijans and inadequate propaganda by the authorities and anti-untouchability workers. At present we need not expect much help from Government servants. Some selfish Harijan leaders are also unwilling to help because they fear that, when untouchability goes, their leadership may also go with it. If this view appears fanciful or prejudiced to any, let them note the implications of the following recent remark of a prominent Harijan leader: "I would like to say that while I am wholeheartedly in favour of opening hostels and dispensaries, and other ameliorative measures for the Scheduled Classes, I feel that these necessary things must be done by Government at Government cost, so that no community could feel that it has conferred an obligation upon another, and so that the community that receives the benefits may not feel that in the circumstances they should remain grateful to the benefactors". These circumstances put a special responsibility on anti-untouchability workers, who should not remain content with merely providing hostels and scholarships for Harijan students.

That there is still hostility to the admission of Harijan pupils from non-Harijans is indicated in the report itself. With regard to Government orders penalising discrimination against Harijan students, the report states that these orders are not observed "in some parts of Gujarat where orthodox Hindus continue to be bitterly opposed to the treatment of Scheduled Class children on a footing of equality with their own children. . . . Scheduled Class girls are still not admitted in most Local Board girls' schools all over the province. It is hoped that Government orders providing for the withdrawal of grants in the cases of schools refusing admission to Scheduled Class children together with firm action by the school board authorities concerned will lead to free admissions of Scheduled Class children in primary schools in Gujarat." Government's hopes will be speedily fulfilled if its orders are not allowed to remain a dead letter or make-believe but are enforced with half the earnestness with which orders and ordinances against political suspects are.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

Jap Nervousness

The Japanese who have now had a sense of reality well knocked into them have paid the Americans the compliment of declaring publicly that they expect an imminent invasion of the Philippines. The consciousness of an urgent crisis is not surprising. General MacArthur's descent on northern Halmaheras and Admiral Nimitze's descent on the Palau presents a sure and serious two way threat to the Philippines. And as it to lend further and intensely painful point to that threat, aircraft of Admiral Halsey's fleet have carried out a heavy and three day long strike against the very heart of the Philippines, Manila and the naval base at Cavita. The fact that the Japs lost heavily in aircraft and ships and were almost helpless against the Americans must have further alarmed them. So that they are preparing with feverish nervousnesa for the approaching crisis.

The Burma Front

An actual invasion of the Philippines will, of course, take some time yet. But the Americans are now well on the last stage of the journey and, in the meantime, they have the Philippines within continued large scale bombing range from the Halmaheras and the Palaus. The situation in the Pacific is encouraging. At the same time it throws into sharper relief the disappointing lack of comparable aggressive activity in the South-East Asia area. It is argued that the British are building up their strength. But even with the present strength they could do more both in the Indian Ocean and in Burma. We regard the Burma theatre as more important than the sea front in the south. But the rainy season is ending and let us hope that the Fourteenth Army now extends and intensifies its operations. Let us also hope that it is made possible for General Stilwell to get going on the scale that he desires and that is necessary. For, if given the chance and the material, Stilwell can yet save China from the grave menace which she is facing.

Arnhem Situation

The other day we said that if the British Second Army succeeded in linking up quickly with the hard-pressed air borne troops in the Arnhem area, the Allies would have triumphantly passed a decisive stage on the straight road to Berlin itself. There was then a report, too, that the link-up had, in fact, been achieved. That, however, has proved incorrect. The airborne division still remains isolated and surrounded by the Germans. The Nazis, realising as they naturally did, the awful magnitude of the danger to them have struck fiercely and with great power. For over a week the isolated Allied troops have fought day and night against heavy odds and suffered heavy losses. But till Sunday morning these gallant men had not given in. But the delay in the link-up has made their position extremely critical and they cannot be expected to hold on much longer unless they are relieved.

Crucial Struggle

Energetic efforts, however, are being made by the Second Army to break through the critical five miles that separates it from Arnhem. It is also reported that strong airborne reinforcements and supplies have also been dropped to the beleaguered garrison. But the Germans are still fighting ferociously to keep the Second Army from the Arnhem garrison and to annihilate the latter. The situation remains in the balance with all eyes tensely fixed on those vital five miles. It is a crucial battle. If the Allies win it, the Siegfried Line will be turned and the route to Berlin opened, which development will also have a decisive effect on German resistance in the Siegfried Line front, too. If they lose it, a possibly successful counter-attack by the Germans on the Allied bridgehead at Nijmegen and serious one on the long wedge from Eindhoven to the Waal will be inevitable. And the struggle for the gateway to Germany and Berlin will be prolonged.

Complacence

In a broadcast talk on Thursday Mr. R. G. Casey, Governor of Bengal, stated that the number of destitutes "receiving help from the Government of Bengal" was 2,75,000 in the first half of September but added that this was "only a very small percentage of the 60 odd millions of Bengal" and that "the extent of distress approaching destitution is not sufficient to cause serious concern." It is clear he himself is not feeling any "serious concern". But when he himself admits that many more persons are "having a hard time of it" and that the price of rice is still very high, when the people know better that there are many destitutes who need relief but for one reason fail to get relief from Government, when a number of necessary foodstuffs other than rice are scarce and costly in many parts of the province Indians at any rate will agree with Pandit Kunzru that the situation is still "disquieting." Pandit Kunzru, after visiting various parts of Bengal, points out that rice was selling nowhere at less than Rs 13 per maund", that "fish is seldom obtainable but when it can be had the price paid for it is three or four times as high as it was last year," and that malaria has broken out "earlier this year than it does usually and is widespread." We expect these statements will not be challenged by Mr. Casey.

Unfair

Complacent as he himself is, Mr. Casey is impatient of criticism from better informed people. He says: "I hope very much that individuals from outside Bengal will not add to the difficulties of the province by making statements to the Press after a short visit—particularly statements that are of most doubtful factual validity and which do more harm than good to the situation that the Government of Bengal is endeavouring—with no little success up till now—to deal with. I believe such statements to be against the public interest, however satisfying they may be to those who make them from a political point of view." Indians outside Bengal are Indians and better realise the situation in the province than individuals from outside India. If their statements are inaccurate, let them be proved to be so. If that is not possible it is unfair to suggest that the friendly warnings are inspired by political motives.

'Bombay Industries Department'

I was amazed to read the letter under the heading "Bombay Industries Department" published in your issue of Saturday. The writer makes very wild and unwarranted remarks against Mr. S. D. Vashist, the acting Director of Industries Department. As the Director is a very busy man, it is likely that a few visitors may not have been able to see him, but it is wholly untrue to say that visitors are discouraged from calling at the office. On the contrary Mr. Vashist sees a number of visitors every day and as one who has visited him often I can say that there is no basis in the complaint. Mr. Vashist is a conscientious officer and has always been helpful to those who have sought his advice and help.

"DAILY WORKER" ON INDIA'S SACRIFICE

Plea For Recognition Of Her Claims As Member Of United Nations

LONDON, Sept. 24.

The "United Press of India" learns that Russian and American pressure has compelled the British delegation at Montreal, where latest meetings are taking place, to recognise India's rightful claims as a member of the United Nations.

When the U. N. R. R. A., was formed it was boosted up as an organisation that would bring relief to all countries suffering from famines and economic dislocation. The U. N. R. R. A., met several times and on all occasions India was excluded even though famine has been ravaging India.

The "Daily Worker" commenting this morning on the inclusion of India says: "Why the British delegation objected at the last sessions to the inclusion of India has never been made clear. It is emphatically true that war conditions have contributed to India's recent famines. Her sufferings have been greater in volume than that of all, but very few countries have been actually overrun by the enemy".—United Press.

JOURNAL OF SCIENTIFIC & INDUSTRIAL RESEARCH

September 20.

A comprehensive survey of the Indian glass Industry from its early beginning down to the present day, is contained in a very interesting article appearing in the August issue of the Journal of Scientific and Industrial Research, which has just been released for publication. In view of the circumstance that the raw materials required for the industry are available in abundance, and that there is a big home market for glass articles, the scope for its expansion in the post-war period, is very bright indeed. The recent decision of the Governing Body of the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research to establish a Central Glass and Silicate Research Institute at Calcutta, supplies a very vital requirement of the industry the Editorial article deals with the scope and objects of the Research Institute envisaged by the Governing Body.

INDIAN PETROLEUM INDUSTRY.

An interesting account of the petroleum industry in India is included in the same issue of the Journal. The highly complicated technical operations involved in processing the crude oil into the familiar motor spirit and kerosene are described in simple language. The crude product began its existence millions of years ago in the slime of some primaeval lagoon; it lay undisturbed far beneath the sun-scorched soil of India for ages, while mankind evolved from the primitive form of life, until it was rudely awakened and subjected to a terrific battering of scorching flames and freezing cold and corrosive chemicals, being converted under this treatment into an invaluable item of our modern life.

INDIAN SANDAL WOOD OIL.

Another article of absorbing interest deals with the manufacture of Sandalwood oil. India holds the monopoly for the world-renowned sandalwood. The oil distillation industry in India is comparatively recent and the scented wood which was being exported to Europe and America is now being distilled in the country of its origin. A modern distillation unit, the biggest in the world, is now operating in Mysore. The technique of distillation, the chemical composition of the oil, and the uses to which the oil is put, are described in the article.

Amongst the other articles appearing in the Journal, mention may be made of the manufacture of Strontium Carbonate from celestite which occurs in Trichinopoly, and the influence of certain factors on the magnetic properties of electric steel sheets. In an article on the Indian Patent System, a strong plea is made for a Patents Planning Commission to review the adequacy of the prevailing patents system to meet the requirements of the rapidly expanding scientific and industrial activities.

ART OF PUBLIC SPEAKING

Prof. Afonso's Tips

Speaking on the 'Art of Public Speaking,' under the auspices of the Students Debating Circle, at Wilson College Hall, Prof. F. Correia Afonso explained the phrase how, "poets are born, and orators are made.'

Essentials for public orators, he said were the equipment of physical fitness (sound chest and good voice) and full preparation of speech. The first preparation depended on shouting. Demesthene rectified his defects of speaking by shouting with a pebble in his mouth near the sea-shore (Laughter)

Intellectual training, mental discipline, vocabulary and knowledge at fingers' end, are also the assets of an orator. Vocabulary did not mean committing to memory Dr. Johnsons Dictionary (Laughter). One should be able to express the same idea in different words.

Apart from cultivating the style of speaking by regulating his voice and gesture, a speaker should prepare his introduction and conclusion. The most important thing desirable was the contact of the speaker with the audience which should be as far as natural. Proceeding he said: "A speaker who commits his speech to memory will be lacking in this fundamental aspect oan orator. He cited an instance how a speaker having committed his speech to memory failed to utter "Ladies" and addressed only as 'Gentlemen". By dropping the "Ladies" out of his speech the whole speech collapsed. (Loud Laughter.)

21 KILLED IN BOAT DISASTER

BAPTLA, Sept. 24.

It is reported that a passenger boat proceeding from Karamchedu to Chebrolu along the Kommamut (Buckingham) Canal, capsized at night on September 20 at Muttlur, a village two miles from Chebrolu owing to high wind. Up till now 21 dead bodies have been recovered, including those of 12 women and 4 children.—United Press.

Stop Playing "Dominion Politics" In Far East

U. S. Republican Accuses Britain Of Holding Up Allied Advance

LONDON Sept. 22 (Delayed)

Washington Congressman Mr. Calvin D. Johnson of Illinois today told House of Representatives that "lack of Allied co-peration in China, Burma, India theatre had cost thousands of American lives and may result in many bitter years of war".

Disclaiming any intention of spreading Anglo phobia Mr. Johnson added, "Bitter years of war may lie ahead in the Pacific if Allies do not stop playing Dominion Politics and direct their attention to the affairs of the day and not to the empire of future".

Mr. Johnson asserted, in 1941 Lord Wavell refused the Chinese offer to provide General Stilwell with two armies and charged Lord Wavell with "acting on orders". Mr. Johnson also contended that British policy towards Asia proves "Britain will not willingly consent to the re-occupation of her Asiatic territory by Chinese troops even though the result would shorten the war and lessen the cost both to Britain and the United States".—Reuter.

CRIPPS-ACLAND COALITION

Plan To Launch New Political Weekly

LONDON, Sept. 24.

Speculation about Sir Stafford Cripps' future political career has become persistent. It is generally believed that he will join hands with Sir Richard Acland, leader and founder of the Commonwealth Party.

In the meantime Commonwealth Party leaders have decided to approach the Labour Party for immediate affiliation.

The United Press of India understands that an influential section in the Labour Party Executive favours the Commonwealth Party's affiliation. An application will probably come before the Labour Party Conference to be held in December and Prof. Harold Laski will support it.

In this connection another important development is worth noting. Sir Stafford Cripps and Sir Richard Acland, it is learnt, propose to launch a new political weekly at an early date after the end of the European war. Mr. Sydney Elliot, former editor of the "Reynolds News" and now editor of the "Evening Standard", is being approached with the offer of editorship of the new weekly.

This coalition of Sir Stafford and Sir Richard is important from the Indian point of view. It may be remembered that it was the Commonwealth Party which made India a definite issue in the recent by-election and won it. It was the Yorkshire election and Mr. Lawson was the successful candidate.—United Press.

TRIBUTES TO HORNIMAN'S SERVICES

City Institution To Be Called 'Horniman College Of Journalism'

The College of Journalism situated in the premises of the Khalsa College at Matunga, Bombay, hereafter will be called the 'Horniman College of Journalism.'

This declaration was made by Prof. P. G. Rao, head of the College of Journalism, while paying his tribute to the services of Mr. B. G. Horniman, Editor, "Bombay Sentinel" on Sunday morning.

The occasion was a meeting arranged under the joint auspices of the Khalsa College Students' Union and the College of Journalism to felicitate Mr. Horniman on the occasion "of his Golden Jubilee as a doyen of Indian Journalists." The College hall was full to its capacity and a number of speakers paid their tributes to Mr. Horniman.

"Journalist's life is a life of struggle and hardship, but it is one of the best professions wherein one gets opportunity to serve his Motherland," remarked Mr. Horniman while addressing the students and budding journalists who were present in large numbers.

JOURNALIST OF HIGH CAPACITIES

Principal G.B. Jathar of the Khalsa College, paying a tribute on behalf of the Students' Union referred to the eventful life of Mr. Horniman and his struggles and fights which he had so far waged asserting the rights of citizenship. He was a journalist of high capacities, the speaker said, and advised the students of journalism that if they wanted to know the secret of journalism they should read Mr. Horniman's writings regularly and particularly his Twilight Twitters' in the "Bombay Sentinel" which were widely and avidly read all over with great interest.

Continuing, Principal Jather said that Mr. Horniman's autobiography was bound to throw powerful light on our national history and important personalities in India and outside.

Prof. P. G. Rao said that Indian journalism to-day owed a great debt to Mr. Horniman for new orientation and paid a tribute as a friend of the poor. Mr. Rao declared that the College of Journalism hereafter will be called 'Horniman College of Journalism.'

Dr. S. B. Hudlikar, paying his tribute, said that although Mr. Horniman was an Englishman we claim him to be an Indian because he had great love for this country, and served its oppressed and suppressed people selflessly. Among journalists in India he had got the first place and the student community always felt that in Mr. Horniman they had got the best friend. He wished him a long life.

Mr. D. S. Umrootkar described Mr. Horniman as a pole star to Indian journalists Mr. N. G. Virkar, Secretary of the Bombay Hotel Owners' Association also associated with other speakers in paying tributes to Mr. Horniman.

IN SPIRIT OF SERVICE

Mr. Horniman in his reply after thanking all those who spoke high of him narrated how the start of his career as reporter was not so cheering from the point of view of payment. HE WARNED THE BUDDING JOURNALIST NOT TO TAKE TO THIS PROFESSION WITH MONEY POINT IN VIEW BUT TO TAKE TO IT WITH A SPIRIT OF SERVICE. HE SAID JOURNALIST'S LIFE WAS A LIFE OF HARDSHIP AND STRUGGLE BUT AFTER ENTERING THIS PROFESSION ONE GOT OPPORTUNITY TO SERVE HIS COUNTRY OF WHICH HE MUST MAKE BEST USE.

Continuing Mr. Horniman said that he came to India with the spirit of service. Till recently he did not know how his services were appreciated by the public, and he expressed gratitude at the wide appreciation of his fights and struggles that he had so far waged asserting the rights of citizenship and also his stand to fight for the freedom of this country.

Concluding Mr. Horniman wished success to the College of Journalism, but warned the authorities that they should keep up the high traditions of journalism and selflessness.

The function terminated after singing of 'Vande Matram' by Miss Indu.

"NEARER HER GOAL OF INDEPENDENCE NOW"

Horniman Wishes To See India Free Before He Dies

Felicitations were offered to Mr. B G. Horniman and glowing tributes paid to his brilliant journalistic career at the Three Arts function held in the hall of the Cama Oriental Institute on Sunday.

A short but interesting programme of songs and dances and display of archery feats entertained the audience. Mr. S. A. Brelvi presided over the function.

Welcoming the guests and requesting Mr. Brelvi to take the chair, Atya Begum paid a tribute to the services rendered by Mr. Horniman.

Atiya Begum further cited instances in proof of Mr. Horniman's courage of conviction and independence of spirit. She referred to her own scheme of Municipal education which everybody in the Bombay Corporation refused to consider and which was backed only by Mr. Horniman who was then a Corporator.

"A GREAT ARTIST"

Paying tribute to Mr. Horniman as a great artist in journalism Mr. Brelvi who presided observed that it was a matter of great pleasure and pride for editors all over the country to see a member of their profession celebrating the Golden Jubilee of his journalistic career. Mr. Horniman had led a very strenuous and active life, and his completion of 50 years as a journalist was a tribute to his abstemious way of living. Even at this age his energy and drive were the envy of many an young man. He was a fearless and independent journalist and had fought many a "battle royal" for the freedom of the press of which he was an ardent and most uncompromising champion.

Mr. Brelvi then recalled the utterance of Mr. Horniman at a recent function of the Progressive Group where he evinced a keen desire to see India free before he died. Mr Horniman, Mr. Brelvi said, loved this country and its people. He was also proud of being an Englishman. But he belonged to that rare type of Englishman who never betrayed the ideals of Freedom, Democracy and Justice and to whom these ideals were not merely cloaks for hiding the real objectives of political domination and economic exploitation. Throughout he stuck to his convictions and sometimes even paid heavily for those convictions inasmuch he incurred unpopularity among Englishmen who had prospered in India and eaten her salt. But when the history of the relations between Britain and India was written, it would be the name of Mr. Horniman and not those of Englishmen among whom Mr. Horniman was unpopular would be remembered with gratitude by Britishers as well as Indians because in serving the cause of Indian freedom Mr. Horniman was truly serving his own country.

MR. HORNIMAN'S REPLY

In his reply Mr. Horniman said that he was greatly overwhelmed at the appreciation shown by the people of his struggle in the cause of Indian freedom. He was really proud of the achievements during those 50 years, but he felt, at the same time that much had yet remained undone. When he first came to India he was much depressed by the condition of the country after 200 years of British rule. He was, however, satisfied to find that during the years that followed a great political consciousness had come over the people, and they had learnt the value of their rights. The former political inertia was now replaced by a spirit of determination to achieve political freedom. He felt a just pride in having taken part in bringing about that change in the spirit of the people.

Concluding, Mr. Horniman said that in spite of the bombastic utterances of Mr. Churchill and the unhelpful attitude of Britons he was sure that India was nearer to her goal of independence than even before. He only wished to see India free before he died.

Academy Of Islam Lunch

A lunch was held by the Academy of Islam at the Taj Mahal Hotel on Sunday on the occasion of the Id and in honour of Mr. B. G. Horniman's golden jubilee of his journalistic career.

COUNTRY CRAFT TRAFFIC

(BY B. R. RANE, M.L.A.)

It is regrettable that in spite of strong protests by the Indian Merchans' Chamber, the West Coast of India Sailing Ship-Owners' Association and various other Chambers of Commerce on the West Coast, the Government of India has chosen to enforce its scheme of controlling country craft traffic on the west coast. The scheme in question is known as "Route Scheme." It appears that the Government had determined in any case to enforce the scheme in question as it had by the War Transport Department Notification No. 6 TWT (28)/44 dated the 17th August, 1944 empowered the Controller of Indian Shipping, while the scheme in question was first published only in the issue of the "Times of India" of the 16th August, 1944, for soliciting opinions of those affected thereby and of the public. This instance would certainly show how the present Government is treating the public with disregard of their vital interests.

In spite of this the Government, as usual, claims that the present scheme is for the better organisation of country craft traffic on the west coast of India. But on its careful examination one can easily realise that it is not in the best interest of those who are engaged in this indigenous and old trade. The scheme in question is enforced without explaining to and consulting the sailing ship-owners who are about 4,000. Though the trade is not yet well organised, it has been efficiently and systematically carried on generation after generation.

ROUTES

From the published details of the scheme, it appears that the routes have been fixed not in the best interest of the ship-owners but in consonance of the vested interests of the route agents appointed under the notification, as can be seen from the following instance. Under the present route scheme the Government has appointed four monopolist agents One of the route agents, Vishram Khimaji of Bombay, has been allotted a route known as "Cutch-Kathiawar-Gujarat, Bombay." Out of this route the ports in the Bhawnagar States have been excluded and given to another agent," "the Bombay Steam Navigation Company of Bombay" in addition to its route allotted for the ports on the Konkan, Kanara and Malabar Coasts. In appointing these four-monopolist agents the Controller of Indian Shipping deliberately excluded several other country craft owners who are carrying the trade for a long time; and thus they have been placed at the mercy of these four monopolists for getting their daily bread.

RATES OF FREIGHT

The second and most important point in the scheme is fixation of freight for different routes. If one examines the schedule of rates attached to the Government Notification published in the issue of "The Times of India" of the 6th instant one will be immediately convinced that the rates of freight fixed are not only low but also inequitable and unfair. Prior to the scheme in question it was the established practice that the freight rates for particular port depended on the consideration of availability of cargo for return voyage. The following comparative statement showing the average rates of freight in the last season and those fixed by the Controller of Indian Shipping under the present scheme will bear out the above statement.

Route.	Nett. average rates in the last season.	Freight rates fixed under the notification.
	per ton	per ton
Bombay—Ratnagiri	Rs. 9	Rs. 8
Bombay—Marmagoa	8	8
Bombay—Mangalore	11	8

Now the Controller of Indian Shipping at the time of fixing scheduled rates of freight has not at all taken into consideration the distance to be covered by the sailing ships from the port of despatch to the port of destination. For example, the distance between Bombay and Dabhol port is 80 miles. Between Bombay and Ratnagiri port is 120 miles; between Bombay and Devgad 160 miles; between Bombay and Vengurla 200 miles; between Bombay and Marmagoa 250 miles. For all these Konkan ports and still further for all the Kanara ports the scheduled rates of freight are the same i.e. Rs. 8 per ton. These scheduled freight rates include 0-5-0 for brokerage; 0-7-2 for monopolist Agents' commission and the balance of Rs. 7-3-1 is the nett freight for one ton. This clearly shows inequity and, unfairness in the freight rates as those are the same for the short distance of 80 miles and for the long distance of 250 or 350 miles. This will also show how the Controller of India Shipping acted injudiciously and indiscreetly in fixing the scheduled freight rates.

BROKERAGE.

As regards the brokerage mentioned in the Scheduled Freight rates it is unnecessarily included therein. The Konkan sailing Shipowners never used to get cargo for their vessels through broker. They or their tandels used to manage to get cargo direct from the merchants concerned. Moreover, under the scheme the shipowners have perforce to get cargo direct from the route agents and there is no necessity for employing brokers to secure vessels and hence the provision of brokerage in the schedule cannot be supported by any stretch of imagination.

Under these circumstances it is absolutely necessary for those vitally interested in the trade to oppose the scheme in question in order to secure its immediate withdrawal by the Government.

About that letter of Marshal Chiang Kai-Shek published by the "People's War", it is stated that it was published in America long ago but was carefully kept away from India.

Since that is all that was done to the letter by the authorities, the Generalissimo and the Chinese Government should deem themselves lucky. They might well have had their Lease-Lend materials confiscated in India for the crime of interfering in Indian affairs. Under the Defence of India Rules needless to say.

But to return to the letter, now that it has been published in India; the Generalissimo suggests that "to uphold the British Empire's prestige and safeguard her interests, she should show courage, forbearance and resolution by removing the causes of the situation (in India)."

But can't the Generalissimo see that it means nothing less than removing the British "Empire" itself?

We at any rate are not staggeringly surprised.

Specially in view of the equally sensational omission and so well known that so far, Democracy, the Atlantic Charter, etc. have been left off the Allied peace plans.

INDIAN TECHNICAL WORKERS PRAISED

Asian Air Associates' Service To R.A.F.

The first anniversary of the Asian Air Associates was celebrated at the company's workshop in Bombay on Saturday. The function was attended, among others, by Wing-Commander Jenkins, Deputy-Director Manufacture and Repair (Aircraft) Bombay circle.

Addressing the gathering, Mr. Musi Mistri, principal partner of Asian Air Associates, spoke of the remarkable adaptability and skill of Indian workers, which had enabled the company to render timely service to the Royal Air Force and to the war effort generally. Mr. Misari was therefore confident that the necessary skilled technical labour would be available for carrying out the most ambitious plans of the expansion of post-war aviation in India, and the general industrial progress in the country.

TECHNICAL SKILL

Wing-Commander Jenkins, appreciating the valuable services rendered to the R.A.F. by the organisation, technical skill and spirit of service displayed by Asian Air Associates in helping war work, also spoke on the importance of technical skill for India's industrial progress.

Mrs. Mistri presented 50 gold and silver efficiency awards to the workmen of the Asian Air Associates for the assidous performance of their duty, and the high degree of technical skill acquired by them and displayed in the performance of their daily work.

A dinner at the "Ritz" the same evening was attended by Wing-Commander Jenkins, an officer of the Supply Department, locally stationed R.A.F. officers and the executives of the Asian Air Associates.—A. P.

PALESTINE ARABS BURY HATCHET

Six Parties Agree In Electing Representative To Alexandria

JERUSALEM, Sept. 23: Six Palestine Arab parties today buried political differences and reached an agreement upon representation at next week's Arab Unity Conference at Alexandria.

The representative chosen was Mr. Musa Alami, local Moslem leader who was educated at Cambridge. He is a former Government advocate and attended the Palestine Conference in London in 1939 as official delegate.

It is expected here that the Palestine question will dominate the Alexandria talks.

Independence First— Federation Afterwards

BEYROUT, Sept. 23: The Lebanese Parliament met today to discuss the pan-Arab Conference, which begins in Alexandria on Tuesday.

The Prime Minister, Riad-el-Solh again declared that the Lebanon was prepared to collaborate with its Arab neighbours only as long as the independence of the country remained unthreatened.

Roosevelt Answers Republican Charges

Accuses Opposition Of Following "Propaganda Technique Set Out In Hitler's Book"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23: President Roosevelt in his first campaign speech since he accepted fourth term re-nomination two months ago tonight declared over the radio.

"This Government welcomes all sincere supporters of the cause of effective world collaboration in making lasting peace. Millions of Republicans throughout the nation are with us—and have been with—in our unshakable determination to build a solid structure of peace."

President Roosevelt criticised "those who without responsibility and without knowledge of facts lecture Chiefs of Staff of United States as to the best means of dividing our armed forces and our military resources between the Atlantic and Pacific.

HITLER'S TECHNIQUE

"The Opposition has already imported into this campaign a propaganda technique invented by dictators abroad. The technique is all set out in Hitler's book. According to it you should never use small falsehood; always a big one, for its very fantastic nature will make it more credible if only you keep repeating it over and over again! Perhaps the most ridiculous feature of this campaign of falsification is that this administration has failed to prepare for war which was coming. I doubt whether even Dr. Goebbels would have tried that one.

'Even Dr. Goebbels would never have dared to hope that voters of America had already forgotten that many Republican leaders in the Congress and outside the Congress tried to thwart and block nearly every attempt of this administration made to warn our people and arm this nation.

TASKS AHEAD

There are tasks ahead of us, which we must complete with the same will, skill, negligence and devotion which already have led us so far on the road to victory. There is the task of finishing victoriously this most terrible of all wars as speedily as possible and with the least cost in lives. There is the task of setting up international machinery to assure that peace, once established, will not again be broken. And there is the task which we face here at home—of reconstructing our purposes of war to purposes of peace. These peace-building tasks were faced once before nearly a generation ago. They were botched by the Republican administration. That must not happen this time. We will not let it happen this time."

VICTORY FOR DEMOCRACY

Continuing President Roosevelt said: Victory of Allies in this war will be victory for Democracy. "We move forward with God's help to the greatest epoch of a free achievement by freemen, the world has ever known or imagined to be possible."

Continuing President Roosevelt said, "We are even now organising logistics of peace just as General Marshal, Admiral King, Generals Arnold, MacArthur and Eisenhower and Admiral Nimitz are organising logistics of this war. Victory of American people and their Allies in this war will be far more than a victory against Fascism and reaction and dead hand of despotism and of the past. Victory of American people and their Allies in this war will be victory for democracy. Our millions of soldiers and sailors and merchant seamen have been handicapped or prevented from voting by those politicians and candidates who think they stand to lose by such voters".

Quoting Republicans' plank on labour and social security reform, President Roosevelt said: "Republicans spent years of effort, energy and much money in fighting every one of those laws in Congress and in courts."

"FANTASTIC CHARGE"

Answering Republican charge that the Administration intends to keep men in army when war was over because there might be no jobs, President Roosevelt declared "that very day a fantastic charge was made that a formal plan for speedy discharge was announced by the War Department. This callous and brazen falsehood was an effort to stimulate fear among American mothers, wives and sweethearts and hardly calculated to bolster the morale of our soldiers, sailors and airmen. There are some politicians who kept their heads buried deep in the sand while storms of Europe and Asia were headed our way. Who said that Lend-Lease Bill "would bring an end to free Government in the United States" and who said "only hysteria entertains the idea that Germany, Italy or Japan contemplate war upon us". These very men are now asking American people to entrust to them the conduct of our foreign policy and our military policy."—Reuter.

Stock-Exchange:—

BUSINESS QUIET, UNDERTONE FIRM

LONDON, Sept. '22.

Business on the stock exchange today was again on the quiet side partly owing to weekend considerations, but the undertone was generally firm. Individual dividend profit statements encouraged a fairly widespread demand in industrials with rayons, tobaccos and some breweries finding favour.

British Funds ruled mainly steady, while British Railways met steady investments inquiry. Leading oils were rather dull in the absence of interest. Among foreign bonds Brazilians were again requested and there was some inquiry in French railways, but Bulgarians were inclined to be easier. Internationals after uncertainty developed a firm trend, but South African Goldmines met only selective support. —Reuter.

BADOGLIO'S SON AMONG 20 SHOT?

Nazi Reprisals For Caruso In Northern Italy

ROME, Sept. 23: Republican Fascist radio broadcasts announced tonight that 20 persons have been shot in Northern Italy and 30 sentenced to life imprisonment.

No mention was made in the broadcast whether this was a reprisal for shooting of Pietro Caruso but this is very probably the case. Among the hostages reported to be held by the Fascists is the brother of the Communist leader Togliatti and Marshal Badoglio's son, but it is not known whether they are among those shot.

The success of a job, whether in wood, metal or leather, depends to a great extent on the quality of the finish.

First-rate abrasives are largely responsible for the smoothness and polish that distinguish high-class wooden fittings. By removing rust they prevent corrosion of iron and steel structures of buildings, bridges, machineries etc. Sand papers and Glass cloths greatly increase the life and efficiency of leather goods.

Specialised knowledge has been applied to the manufacture of our Cat Brand Emery cloth, paper, tapes, discs and endless bands. Although a major portion of these is now taken up by the Government, we are expanding our production to meet the growing civilian demands.

EATHING in tank or river, the ancients of South India used iluppai poonac in place of soap, which was quite unknown to them. Fortunate indeed are their descendants of today who, in contrast, have the refreshing, instantly cleansing lather of HAMAM SOAP to add to the pleasure of bathing. HAMAM SOAP combines the benefits of the ancient methods with all the advantages of a modern soap.
